PROFESSIONAL PROFILE

Product Designer with experience in digital projects within consulting environments, focused on end-to-end UX/UI design, AI-driven product strategy, and creative technology. Currently at Accenture, I have contributed to the design of digital banking experiences for BBVA in Italy and Germany, helping build impactful digital products with a strong focus on information architecture, user flows, prototyping, and design systems within multidisciplinary teams including PMs, developers, and business stakeholders. I am comfortable across all phases of the design process — from research to handoff — and particularly motivated to continue growing in projects with real user impact.

Passionate about human-centered design and exploring how AI can enhance creative processes. Proven track record in Generative AI integration, prompt design, automation, and supporting creative teams in AI adoption.
